Confederate Steam Propeller captured by Blockaders, off the Port of Charleston.

Important Dispatches from Commander Murray, were saved.

RICHMOND, Jan. 29.—The New York Herald of the 20th says, a Yankee gunboat is reported to have been sunk by a Confederate battery, off Fort Hudson.

Curtis telegraphs Halleck that three Federal gunboats ascended White river, as high as Duval's Bluff and Desatre; capturing 150 prisoners, two Columbiads, and 200 small arms.

General Wool having ordered all the New York militia to report to him, Gen. Hall, the commandant of the State forces, entered a vigorous protest. There was great excitement created by the evident design of the administration to take the militia under its control.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune says, France remonstrated with England about fitting out the Alabama.

Skirmishing reported in front of Corinth, and an attack is looked for.

A special correspondent of the New York Post states that four days last week, beginning on Tuesday and ending on Friday, the Grand Army attempted to cross the Rappahannock at Bank's ford, just above Fredericksburg, but such was the condition of the roads they were compelled to fall back. The difficulties of the Yankees are thus described:—In every galley batteries, caissons, supply wagons, ambulances, and pontoons were mired; horses and mules up to their bellies in mud, and soldiers on the march sinking up to their knees, almost at every step. It was impossible to draw empty wagons through the mud. The whole army stuck fast. The guns and pontoons were three days in reaching the ford, and had to be dragged by the united labor of men and horses. When convinced that the approaches to the river were impracticable, the whole army withdrew, and on Friday the greater portion was back in camp before Fredericksburg.

A sub-marine cable is to be laid between New Orleans and Fortress Monroe to touch at Fort Macon and Beaufort, N. C., Port Royal, S. C., Fernandina, Key West and Fort Pickens, Florida.

The last communication from the Yankee army opposite Fredericksburg was signed:—"By order of Major General Hooker, Commanding."

The New York correspondent of the Liverpool Mercury, says that after the removal of McClellan, the President and Cabinet was so solicitous that Washington would be captured that a fast steamer, with steam up, was kept to carry them and families away at a moment's notice.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 29.—The steam propeller Princess Royal, Capt. Lawson, from Glasgow, via London, where she took in a cargo, also, via Halifax, St. Johns and Bermuda, having left the latter port on Friday the 23rd instant, was captured at an early hour this morning off this port, by the Yankee blockaders. She was suddenly surrounded by a number of the fleet before daylight, and the officers had to run her on the beach on Long Island as the best possible measure left to them. During
